Brundage, Mrs. Myrtle Blackledge, and Mrs. George Boden were also busy inducing women to register to vote against the Thompson-Lundin organization candidates on Sept. 15. Little or no attention was paid to registration by the women of the Thompson organization.

In the Nineteenth ward Mrs. Gertrude Howe Britton and a band of Hull house workers paraded through the streets in autos during the day urging registration.

A meeting, at which plans to follow up the registration will be made by the Cook county anti-Thompson women's organization, will be held at the Congress hotel at 11 a. m. today.

POLES PREPARE TO SCATTER U. S. NOTE IN RUSSIA

BY PARKE BROWN.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

WARSAW, Aug. 25.—Within the next few days, through its representative at Washington, the Polish government formally will reply to the recent note sent by Secretary of State Coby on the Russian situation.

Prince Sapieha, the Polish minister of foreign affairs, today said this communication would express the gratitude of his country for the moral support assured by the United States during the war crisis.

"We have every reason to expect," he said, "that Secretary Coby's note will have the effect of strengthening our anti-bolshevik attitude."

The prince also suggested that the note would have a tremendous effect in Russia, if it were published there. As there is no free press in Russia, the Polish government is preparing to place the document in the hands of the Russian people.

GIRL FLITS WITH OLD TIME SUITOR AS FIANCÉE WAITS

Neodesha, Kan., Aug. 25.—[Special.]—Dr. A. C. McGuire, well known surgeon of Kansas City, who was wounded when German aviators bombed a hospital in France, was left "waiting at the church" yesterday when he called at the home of his fiancée, Miss Kittle Marshall.

A few hours later, Miss Marshall and Dewey Ayars, who served in the navy during the war, and who was her sweetheart before she met Dr. McGuire, were married at Wichita.

The girl left no word for her parents or the doctor before eloping with Ayars, who came here last week from Winfield, Kas., where he is employed. No reason is known for Mrs. Ayars' action in jilting the physician. They were engaged for several weeks.

fully, the Poles offering resistance and in places launching counterattacks against the bolsheviks. In the neighborhood of Halicz, soviet detachments have been defeated along the Lesser Lipa river, and fighting is proceeding for the possession of the crossings.

The statement asserts that fighting favorable to the bolsheviks continues on the left bank of the Dniester in the region of Kherston, south Russia.

Mobilize Near Georgia.

An alarming concentration of bolshevik forces on the borders of the republic of Georgia is reported in advices to the Georgian legation here. Troops which were assembled at Akastafa, south of Tiflis, are said to already have occupied the neutral zone at that region.

A note dispatched to the bolshevik government of Azerbaijan relative to this concentration of troops is declared to have brought a reply that the move is in accordance with a "certain plan regarding Armenia."

This "certain plan" is believed by the Georgian legation to be a scheme on the part of soviet leaders to march forces through Georgia and Armenia and establish communication with Turkish nationalists in Asia minor.

At Kamenetz and M. Krasin, soviet emissaries in London for some time endeavoring to negotiate trade relations, will leave for Moscow Friday, says the Times. Kamenetz is one of the five great bolshevik leaders and his presence in Moscow is needed, owing to the present crisis, the newspaper asserts.

German Report Favors Reds.

BERLIN, Aug. 24.—[Delayed.]—Reports that the northern Russian bolshevik army is retreating from Poland in disorder are denied by Froben dispatches to the Tageblatt, the correspondent at that East Prussian town says; on the contrary, the soviet retirement is being conducted methodically and all baggage is being moved in wagons.

The correspondent declares he has witnessed the retirement of the bolsheviks and saw 100 Polish prisoners, mostly rich landowners, being taken along by the Russians, "presumably because the inhabitants of the districts being traversed by the retreating forces fire on soviet troops."

REDS SPEAK ON PEACE

LONDON, Aug. 25.—An immediate rupture of the Russo-Polish peace negotiations at Minsk will result if the Poles adhere to their demand for withdrawal of the main Russian terms, says a message received here today from George Tchitcherine, the Russian soviet foreign minister, dated Monday at Moscow.

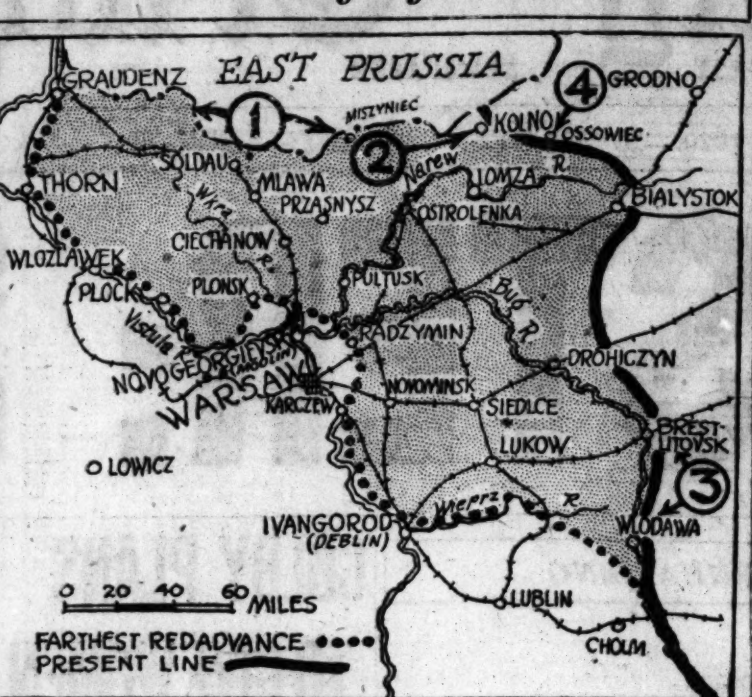

The message recounts the Polish rejection of the fundamental points of the soviet peace terms and declares: "If the Poles stand by their demand for withdrawal of the principal Russian points, it would mean an immediate rupture of the negotiations."

Fiat Refusal by Poles.

The Polish answer to the Russian proposals, says Tchitcherine's message, was a "complete and simple refusal and a declaration non possumus."

The eastern frontier fixed by the supreme council on Dec. 3, and confirmed by Lord Curzon's note, the message

LODGE FAVORS FREEING ERIN; TELLS WALSH SO

Boston, Mass., Aug. 25.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, in a letter sent today to State Senator John J. Walsh, said the resolution passed by the senate last year expressing "sympathy with the aspirations of the Irish people for a government of their own choice" expressed his attitude with regard to Ireland, and that he had nothing to add to it.

The letter was in reply to one from Senator Walsh asking that he introduce at the next session of congress a resolution to provide for financing a commission from the United States to investigate conditions in Ireland.

"I expect and intend," Senator Lodge wrote, "in the course of the campaign to discuss the foreign relations of the United States, but only so far as the United States is directly involved in those relations, whether existing or proposed, and upon which action must be taken by the government of the United States."

POWERS' SWIFT TURN ON REDS AMAZES BERLIN

Thinks Plots in Near East Responsible.

BY GEORGE SELDES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—Germany is amazed at the overnight change in the international and political situation which foreshadows the active participation of the entente on the side of Poland and perhaps a war against Russia.

German politicians and the press believe it was Russia's demand for the control of the Dardanelles and its intrigue in the orient which caused the crisis.

While Leo Kamenetz and Leonid Krasin have been attempting to effect a compromise with England they are believed to have received word from Moscow insisting on the reopening of the Turkish question, which is partly concerned with the Russian control of the Dardanelles.

House British Distrust.

The Russians have been conferring constantly with the Turks in Constantinople while they were spreading their original propaganda. Lenin furthered the Persian nationalist cause and gave gold to the Indian revolutionists. The continuance of these intrigues while negotiations were pending with London is believed to have caused the British distrust of the Russians.

Finally the Russian plans in conquered districts angered Lloyd George. While putting off peace negotiations the Russians established soviet in many towns and especially at Bialystok, where a revolutionary committee was formed.

They planned also to sovietize the government at Warsaw when they captured that city.

Germany is especially surprised at Premier Giolitti's change of front, inasmuch as Italy is considered the foremost pro-Russian nation in Europe. The National Zeitung believes that his action was meant to deal Italian communism a blow on the head.

Spanish Emigrants Make This a Deserted Village

MADRID, Aug. 24.—Every man in the village of Huerto Pelayo, Guadalupe province, has decided to emigrate to the United States, according to Pedro Martinez Embil, the town clerk, who appeared at the American consulate today with twenty-five companions to obtain visas for passports. He said the mayor would have decided to go, but in reality the Russian forces are inevitable in a retreat, he adds, but at this time they are not considerable.

The Russian army, says Tchitcherine, executed a rush to Warsaw with a swiftness unexampled in history, and during such a rapid movement its ranks could not be sufficiently guaranteed.

The Polish bank movement had compelled the army to retreat. This retreat was executed in full order.

"The Russo-Ukrainian army is ready for attacks when the moment shall be considered favorable," says Tchitcherine. "The Polish radio dispatches about a great victory are fables."

U. S. CAUTIONS POLES AGAINST RUSS INVASION

Note Asks Observance of Treaty Borders.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.—[Special.]—The state department disclosed officially today that it had dispatched a communication to the Polish government asking for a declaration of its intention not to invade Russian territory. The official statement was as follows:

"It was admitted at the state department today that a communication had been sent to the Polish government on Aug. 21 expressing the hope that the Polish government would find it agreeable to issue a declaration of its intention to abstain from any territorial aggression against Russia and stating its purpose to remain within the boundaries indicated by the peace conference pending an agreement as to its eastern frontier."

Department officials said no formal reply had been received, but they see no intention on the part of Poland to transgress the ethnographic Polish boundaries assigned by the peace conference.

U. S. NOTE INTERESTS FRANCE

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

PARIS, Aug. 25.—Although it is without any official news concerning the American note to Poland, the French foreign office in commenting on it today, drew a sharp distinction between crossing the ethnological line and keeping territory beyond it. France is with the United States in believing that the Poles ought not to claim territory beyond their ethnological frontier.

As for armies crossing this line the military situation might demand it to prevent the recurrence of an invasion. Whether the crossing would be temporary would have to be decided by the exigencies of the moment.

Hugh Gibson, the American minister to Poland, is en route to Warsaw and expects to reach there Saturday or Sunday night. He considers the crisis in Poland as past, but sees, however, great difficulties in carrying on its reconstruction. He said the only uncertainty now is what will be the eventual outcome in Russia.

Harmony Among Allies.

PARIS, Aug. 25.—[By the Associated Press.]—An optimistic feeling prevailed at the French foreign office today regarding the European situation.

Indorsement of the French policy toward Russia by the United States last week and by Great Britain and Italy yesterday are said to have cleared up the atmosphere.

"There is nothing like a military victory to clear up the political atmosphere," an official of the foreign office told the Associated Press today.

NAME OF SEVERAL GIRL FOUND IN STILL A MYSTERY

Grantwood, N. J., Aug. 25.—A shroud shrouded the identity of a woman whose body was found in the woods near here this afternoon. It was believed to have been a victim of a brutal murder.

For a time the police believed the woman's identity was Mrs. Hermann of New York, who was reported to have been a friend of the dead woman's.

The belief that the body was that of Mrs. Hermann's daughter, who disappeared last year, was also viewed as a possibility, but that definite identification was made.

Mrs. Hermann declared at her home that she had later viewed the body and found that it was not her daughter, William F. Hermann, from whom she is separated, also viewed the body and found that it was not that of his daughter.

On that date some 25,000 orators, men and women, will start preaching Republican doctrine, and they will continue to do so until the end of the campaign.

Selection of the date was made by Senator Harry S. New, chairman of the speakers' committee of the Republican national committee. He explained he had chosen it because it was the anniversary of the adoption of the United States constitution.

Senator New explained that there would, of course, be some preliminary speaking, but that his committee would make no general effort before the day named.

She wired to George Clark, chairman of the Ohio Republican state committee, her acceptance of his invitation to become a member of the committee.

Mrs. Longworth, although the daughter of a former president and the wife of a congressman, had taken no active interest in politics until her arrival in Chicago recently. A visit paid to the women's headquarters in the Auditorium hotel aroused her interest in active political work and her acceptance of the Ohio invitation is the result.

BRITISH MINERS PLAN TO EXCLUDE AMERICAN COAL

'Embargo Threat Empty,' Says Government.

BY JOHN BUTLER

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

LONDON, Aug. 25.—The Miners' Federation of Great Britain has declared for an embargo upon importation of American coal to England to relieve the impending coal crisis.

William Livesey, secretary to Robert Smilie, president of the Miners' federation, said tonight after a meeting of the executive council at headquarters of the federation at 55 Russell square:

"You can safely say that the federation will exert the utmost economic pressure to prevent the importation of American coal. We do not seek to rob American markets, but neither do we want imported American coal to hamper our cause. This strike is to be made for more than a period of wage increase. The price of coal and questions of nationalization are our aim."

Think Threat an Empty One. E. J. Foley, chief of the trade division of the British coal mines department, says the embargo threat can be carried out only with the help of a sympathetic strike of trainmen and transportmen, which he believes is unlikely.

"But that is not the only difficulty we would encounter in getting coal from America if the threatened crisis arose, which seems extremely doubtful," said Foley.

"Poor shipping facilities and the existing embargo due to the coal shortage already existing in the American markets would be more serious stumbling blocks than the federation's actions. So I am not optimistic about what aid we might get from America."

Settle Crisis at Home. "Candidly, I do not believe we will be forced to call for American help. We would settle the crisis here in England before that contingency became necessary."

Mr. Livesey does not say how the federation hopes to enforce the threatened embargo, but the inference is clear that the federation is looking to the triple alliance for support.

It is admitted by all sides, however, that America could afford the only relief in the event of a coal famine here. A demand for coal, it is estimated, rather than by the exhausting of the existing reserve supplies within that time. British industrial coal bins are reported as not well filled and the cold season already is setting in.

First Embargo Threat.

This is the first time that the miners have threatened action to prevent coal imports and the move is regarded as fairly indicative of the strategy underlying the strike.

It is generally accepted that the miners will "rubber stamp" President Smilie's prediction of a unanimous vote by the miners to strike in September.

CRIME BOARD
JOINS WAR ON
BANDIT REIGNRobbers Taken in Gun
Fight in Loop.

Chicago's crime record developed in a startling manner yesterday when, with the killing of two detectives and the apprehension of three armed men, the mounting crime total impelled the Chamberlain, superintendent of the Chicago crime commission, to take an active hand. He held a conference with State's Attorney McGuire and urged a campaign for the extermination of a crime growth which, he declared, has gone beyond the power of the police.

The killing of the two detective sergeants is declared by Chamberlain to be the direct result of laxity in police dealing with the crime. Several of the men accused of participating in the crime have been repeatedly alleged.

A Day of Banditry.

The day's crime developments were: The attempted holdup of the Illinois Pawners' society, 131 North Dearborn street, by three armed men, a gun battle with Paul Korshak, manager, ensued, in which a number of shots were fired, terrorizing early morning Loop crowds.

The robber was captured after a gun battle with Paul Korshak, manager, ensued, in which a number of shots were fired, terrorizing early morning Loop crowds.

Miss Lillian Edelson, 17 years old, 1137 Mozart street, a clerk in the society's office. He was aided by Policeman F. O. Malden. The bandit, a white man, gave his name as Charles W. Miller and his address as the Madison hotel. He is an ex-convict. Another suspect is being held by the police. Miss Lillian Edelson, cashier of the establishment, witnessed the battle.

Paul Scheel, bartender in the room of Val Marcinowski, 3603 North Racine avenue, was held up by six armed men, who stole a 1934 Buick sedan and fled.

Five automobiles were stolen in the twenty-four hours ending at 6 o'clock last night. The majority of the machines were high priced cars.

John Johnston, 50 years old, 44 West Madison street, a watchman employed by the West Side Police Agency, met two armed men at West Fourteenth place and Jackson avenue. They took his revolver, the only article of value he carried.

Handed Café Killing Unsolved.

Police reported their inability to solve the murder of Paul Foshag, 30 years old, 447 South Halsted street, killed in a fight at the Hawaiian Garden, 111 South State street, Aug. 1. The jury brought in a verdict of "killed by some unknown persons."

The waiter, held by the police, was released. The café has been closed by police order.

James "Nellie" Morton, object of a city-wide search since the Pekin Arms affair last Monday morning, in which Detective Sergeant Mulvaney and Hennessy were shot, is still at large. He is expected to surrender.

By Five Women Witnesses.

A mysterious pressure was exerted yesterday to obtain the release of two women witnesses in the case, Lillian Edelson and Evelyn Evans.

Gun Play in the Heart of the Loop.

The photo-diagram of the interior of the storeroom of the Illinois Pawners' society, 131 North Dearborn street, shows the attempted holdup as described by employees of the concern. Emanuel Edelson is the figure with his hands up. Behind the grillwork are Paul Korshak, manager, who opened fire on the robbers, and Miss Lillian Edelson, the cashier.

white, a resort keeper at Forty-eighth street and Michigan boulevard and Mrs. Jane Ritter, alias Jane Godfrey, white.

The Akron and Ritter women were in the Beaux Arts club at the time of the shooting. They have told conflicting stories regarding the affairs of the state's attorney.

Question Another Woman.

A mysterious white woman, well dressed, wearing a black velvet hat and summer furs, was brought to the state's attorney's office late last night for questioning. Her identity was not revealed.

Eight colored employees of the Pekin Beaux Arts, who earned the sobriquet of "dumb waiters" from Prosecutor Robert E. Crowe and asked a writ of habeas corpus. Judge Crowe continued the case until 11 o'clock this morning.

Arrest "Gyp" Rosenthal.

"Gyp" (Yanno) Rosenthal, white, companion of Herschell Miller, confessed slayer of the detective, and "Nellie" Morton the night of the shooting, was under arrest at the Cottage Grove avenue station. So was "Black Ax" Agnes Harvey, colored, resort keeper at 3614 Michigan boulevard. Her place is said to have been used as a fence for stolen furs and diamonds, as well as a rendezvous of the whisky ring.

Robert Santos Anderson, colored, in whose apartment at 3628 Prairie avenue Sgt. Hennessy's revolver was found, is locked up at Chicago avenue station. He will be booked for larceny.

HUNT WIFE AND DAUGHTER HERE.

Chief of Detectives Moeher received a telegram yesterday from Sheriff A. B. Middleton of Miles City, Mont., asking that search be made for Mrs. Catherine O'Connell and her daughter. The husband and father, John O'Connell, an automobile painter, is in a Miles City hospital suffering from a mental ailment, the telegram states.

CANTRILL ONLY
AID TO WHITE
FOR CAMPAIGNWilson Agent Made
Organizer.

(BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.)
Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.—[Special.]—Establishment of James C. Cantrill of Kentucky in New York in charge of organization for the Democratic national committee is declared by administration leaders here to have been accomplished at the dictation of President Wilson.

Mr. Cantrill thus takes over a large portion of the job cut out for the national chairman, George White, who, it is said, is not in favor of the White House.

The president has surprised many Democratic leaders by his long silence on Gov. Cox's speech of acceptance, but they are now beginning to understand that all has not been friendly between the Wilson wing of the party and Gov. Cox's managers.

Mr. Cantrill came to Washington and conferred with the president's intimate political associates regarding organization plans before going to New York.

Another development in the Democratic campaign plans which has resulted from administration insistence, it was learned today, is the decision to open in New York a school for league of nations orators who are to do the speaking in the campaign.

Senator Hitchcock, who led the president's fight for the treaty, is to be the instructor in this department. The purpose is to coach the league speakers so that they will all tell the same story. Many of the party orators now are mixing up their league doctrine, much to the displeasure of the president.

PIECE OF TILE HITS WOMAN.

While turning the corner at North Clark and West Randolph streets, Mrs. F. M. Redman, 45 years old, 4012 Calhoun avenue, was struck on the head by a falling piece of tile yesterday afternoon. It is believed that one of the workmen who are at work remodeling the Hotel Sherman dropped the piece of tile accidentally.

MUSIC OF HORN
FAILS TO CHARM
G. O. P. CHIEFTAINSThink Lundin-March Bit
Too Loud.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.
Springfield, Ill., Aug. 25.—[Special.]—Downstate Republicans swarming into Springfield today for the state fair political roundup sent the city hall's "bandwagon" into the garage, temporarily at least.

They came from every congressional district serving ample notice that the counties decline to be swept into the Thompson-Lundin lineup by the much-peddled assertion that the Chicago organization of the mayor is to deliver 100,000 majority for the Smith-Small ticket.

Knights of Horn Missing.

The arriving downstaters found few of the Chicago city hall lieutenants on the job as has been the usual state fair custom. Those who were here had cut down the "100,000" estimate to 50,000.

Privately they were admitting that 30,000 might be nearer the lead that might be turned out in Cook county. Confidential conferences held last night and today were to do with the possibility of putting over two or three of the favorite sons of the Thompson-Lundin combination. It is not permitted to state at this time the beneficiaries of such an arrangement, were it to be concluded.

The managers for the ticket headed by John G. Oglesby, on the contrary, were very busy, armed with statistics and election returns tending to show that the Thompson-Lundin forces hit their high water mark several elections ago.

The Oglesby men argued that with the Brundage and Deane forces combined in Chicago the prospects are that no city hall candidate has any chance upon a Cook county plurality.

This state of affairs seemed to put some pep into county leaders, particularly from south of Springfield, who usually play a tight game of politics and who do not commit themselves too early in a primary fight.

Each Faction Busy.

Each of the fighting groups of primary candidates was hard at it today, however, and the claims that are made for the rival sets are diametrically opposite and in perfect conflict, county for county and congressional district for district.

Congressman William B. McKinley and Congressman Frank L. Smith hopped into the state capital from their campaign trips, each one of them expressing perfect confidence that he is to be the senatorial nominee.

Mr. McKinley, according to his spokesmen, has southern Illinois "cleaned up." Col. Smith concedes no county in the four southern congressional districts to Mr. McKinley. Mr. McKinley thinks that he can carry Smith's own district and Smith men say Smith can win McKinley's territory, and there you are.

Len Small, who is helping run the state fair, as well as for governor, affirms that he has the nomination won hands down.

OGLESBY URGES
BOOST IN PAY
FOR TEACHERSTells State's Need of Good Educators.

Carlinville, Ill., Aug. 25.—Lieut. Gov. John G. Oglesby pledged the school teachers of Illinois tonight that if elected governor he will recommend to the general assembly prompt and adequate aid and cooperation be provided to safeguard and maintain the excellent standard of the state's educational system.

The candidate for governor declared that in view of the extortionate taxation in the great cities and an unsound federal revenue system, together with the high cost of food, clothing, shelter, and travel, the state must contribute a liberal share to the increase in teachers' salaries which justice to them and to the children demands.

Going into the subject of education in general, Lieut. Gov. Oglesby said: "We have in Illinois a school plant whose value is roughly estimated at over $200,000,000. It is managed by 45,000 school officers. It is instructed by 35,000 teachers. It has enrolled over 1,000,000 pupils. The annual cost of operation is over $65,000,000."

"If elected governor I shall recommend that the general assembly provide prompt and adequate aid and cooperation to safeguard and maintain the excellent standard of our state educational system. At a time when extortionate taxation in our great cities and an unsound federal revenue system have joined with currency inflation to increase the cost of food, clothing, shelter, and travel, the state must contribute a liberal share to the increase in teachers' salaries which justice to them and to the children demands."

DAY WAGE MEN IN ILLINOIS MINES
GET $1.50 BOOST

The coal controversy in Illinois is ended—for the present at least. The day men in the Illinois mines will receive an increase in wages of $1.50 a day, making a scale of $7.50 for eight hours work.

This practically eliminates the differential between the earnings of the coal digger and the daily wage man in the thick vein fields of the state. It gives the day man a higher wage than the coal digger in the thin vein sections. To eliminate this inequality a commission composed of miners and operators will investigate and report within a few weeks what increase in the ton rate shall be given the thin vein coal diggers in order to equalize the scale.

The agreement on the $1.50 increase was reached late last night by a sub-scale committee which will report today to the full scale committee of eight operators and eight union men, headed respectively by E. C. Searls and Frank Farrington.

Mr. Searls said he believed the award would satisfy the men and end the unrest in the Illinois field. Mr. Farrington was noncommittal. His only comment was: "The men have asked for an increase of $2."

THE BINDERY

WITH a bad cook, food goes for naught. The spring vegetables waste their sweetness in a desert soup; the trout gave up its leaping life in vain; the calf perished for indigestion's sake; the survival of the potatoes against the potato bug was a hollow victory; the desert contributed to the sugar shortage. The waiter lost a tip. And the guest, like the gentleman in the song, "will never go there any more." Nature, art and substance were wasted by the cook who had last to do with them.

THIS is not a restaurant's advertisement, but a printer's. We call to mind the cook, because the bindery's function is somewhat similar. The bindery has last to do with your printing, but not least. It combines all the parts and puts them in the finished form. It kills the job, or preserves all the good in it. Well done, bindery work is an unnoted excellence; poorly done, it is the most glaring fault.

A Dexter folder, set incorrectly, offsets hours of calculation on the lockup, destroys page symmetry and balance. A girl with soiled fingers and heavy touch may smudge the fresh sheets and sacrifice the work of artist, engraver and pressman. Careless assembly loses continuity. Poor stitching makes books that neither handle, wear, or look well. The slim Strathmore folder you sweated blood over can be pushed into an envelope in a way that makes it simply waste paper.

BECAUSE we realize these things, the Burnett organization maintains its own bindery—not very large, but very good. Since women have more patience with delicate, painstaking work, our bindery force is mostly women, in charge of a woman who appreciates fine printing as other women appreciate fine fabrics, fine china. The same supervision that governs other activities carries on into the bindery. Persistent adherence to standards is the price of perfection.

Of course, our customers never give us their work BECAUSE of our bindery, but the bindery is an item that justifies their selection; another evidence of our purpose and ability to "do best what many do well." If you care to know more about our plant and our work, we'll come over and tell you; or you can come here and see us at work.

NO TAMMANY IN ILLINOIS.

So Bill the Bunk wants the people of Illinois to put him and his partners in control of the state of Illinois because Gov. Lowden led the movement for the abolition of the board of equalization to final victory.

Boards of equalization have been abolished by virtually every state in the Union. Our own board's record was a disgrace to our public administration. It was not only inefficient but worse. It had no defenders except the politicians who used and abused its powers and the interests which profited by its manipulation. Conscientious men in its membership were helpless in the situation it created.

Gov. Lowden determined he would weed out that evil. He did. He put Illinois in line with the progress of the time. And Bill the Bunk doesn't approve.

"Bill says Lowden wanted to protect the Pullman company. Gov. Lowden told the facts of this matter the other day and the people can judge between this executive, who has made the best record of constructive administration and legislation in the history of the state, and the executive who has one of the most destructive records in the history of Chicago.

Gov. Lowden points out that the tax increase on the Pullman company involved a matter of $3,000 to his wife and children. And Mrs. Lowden had spent $25,000 of her own income to restore the executive mansion because Gov. Lowden did not wish to ask the legislature for an adequate appropriation for that purpose.

Gov. Lowden wants to know if any one thinks he would break his oath of office and betray his public trust for $3,000 while his wife was spending eight times that amount in a gift to the state.

No one thinks so, including Bill the Bunk. His charge is bunk. That is why Bill makes it. There is no chance for Tammany except by bunking the people to the limit.

We do not think the campaign of bunk will win.

IRELAND, NORTH AND SOUTH.

The Dublin peace conference with 700 members is reported to have contained more Unionists than Irish of other parties, but it was for a settlement upon the basis of Irish political and geographical unity.

It was a gathering of moderates and it included Protestant bishops, Catholic priests and business men and landowners north and south. Prominent Unionists said that Irish home rule could be worked out upon the national basis and that Ulster could be included in a scheme of liberty with the south of Ireland.

Nothing could advance the Irish toward self-government more rapidly than the growth of conciliation in Irish parties. When the north and south of Ireland have found in moderate opinion a basis of common action and interest they have removed one obstacle which has blocked other attempts at settlement.

THE GROUND SPRINGERS.

A correspondent of the Daily News at Warsaw says the Polish leaders, now that they can draw their breath freely, hope they will never again be compelled to rely so much upon green volunteers. "The story of the retreat almost to the very walls of Warsaw demonstrates time and again," he declares, "that untrained and inexperienced volunteers are in no sense a match for disciplined soldiers and cannot be expected to stand against them."

Ancient truth, proved on a thousand battlefields, ignored by sentimentalists and civilians, ignored by the American people while the grass is hardy green over the graves of thousands of their sons who paid the penalty of its neglect!

The Polish green soldiers broke. So the green soldiers of the United States broke, broke in panic sometimes without cause, broke and ingloriously ran, as at Bladensburg. Yet there is no braver fighting man than the American soldier, whether volunteer or drafted man. The Polish volunteer was no coward. He comes of a fighting race. But native courage does not take the place of disciplined self-control, nor of knowledge and experience. The bravest are subject to panic; that is, to mental confusion and nervous crisis, and the desperation of helpless ignorance. That is where discipline, experience, and system support natural courage, sustain and guide it. They are essential to victory.

The Polish people rose to meet the peril of their native land. Devotion, willingness to sacrifice all for their cause, was not lacking. But in the field it was not enough. It seldom is enough. It was not natural valor, but military skill and its effective use of the best trained men at the disposal of the Polish command that turned the scale.

If the American people will not learn by their own experience and their own costly sacrifices, we cannot hope they will learn from those of another people. Nevertheless we can but point out again the lesson men who know have been trying vainly to impress upon them, as against the fallacy of men like Mr. Bryan. The Polish retreat proved the unreliability of green troops, however patriotic and naturally courageous. It illustrated that green troops are especially unreliable in retreat and defeat, when morale most needs the bracing of discipline and when organization is most difficult to maintain.

The success of the counter-offensive was one of strategy and the use of trained men. Now that victory has changed sides the untrained troops will be more available. But it is when the enemy is hammering at the gates that a nation must turn not to ground springers but to seasoned soldiers.

THE "SENATE OLIGARCHY."

Mr. Cox is fond of the expression "senate oligarchy." It has a caustic and terrifying sound. Mr. Harding is a senator. The senate is controlled by Republicans. Something destructive will come of it.

The senate is elected directly by the people of the various states, and each senator is supposed to derive his authority from the people. He is supposed to represent them and be responsible to them. Mr. Harding said that he intends to consult the senate in matters covered by the constitutional provisions affecting senate duties. That causes Mr. Cox to view with alarm.

Mr. Cox got his nomination from a small group of distinguished Jeffersonians who are not elected by the people to any office but who are powerful—George Brennan of Illinois, Charles Murphy of New York, Thomas Taggart of Indiana, etc. Mr. Brennan is an able citizen. They are all able citizens. They agreed on Cox and the Democratic party took him.

Mr. Cox, having taken his nomination from a small group, took his policies from Mr. Wilson. Mr. Wilson's conception of the senate is one not found in the constitution. He believes that the senate should be seldom seen and never heard. Mr. Wilson is the arch oligarch of the country, unrestricted by the constitution, under the protection, and unmoved by opinion.

Mr. Cox evidently agrees with Mr. Wilson that the senate is a body inconveniently interposed between the otherwise unrestrained will of the president and purposes he wishes to accomplish.

REAL DEMOCRACY IN INDUSTRY.

Suggestion of ownership of the railroads of the United States by the men who operate them at first sight seems a dream of communism as wild as any emanating from darkest Russia. That such an idea could spring from the conservative and powerful National City Bank of New York, typical of Wall street and all the evils which capitalism represents to the proletarian mind, seems revolutionary. The idea is revolutionary. Its purpose is anti-revolutionary.

It opens a practical way to real democracy in industry—a development which such organizations as the United States Steel company, the International Harvester company, certain packing companies, and other corporations are assisting and apparently finding mutually profitable. It is a way through which labor may acquire a full share in the fruits of its toil through natural economic channels, without revolution, without communism, and without disturbing the system of property rights upon which modern civilization is based.

It does not mean that Wall street has become dizzy at the sight of the idea. Neither does it mean that Wall street is trying to unload the railroads as a losing proposition. It means only that wider knowledge of the fundamentals of economics is bringing to both labor and capital the realization that their interests are common interests. While one cannot exist without the other, both can exist in the same unit. The laborer can be a capitalist and the capitalist can be a laborer.

Such a dual personality makes for peace and progress in industry. It is realization of that fact which inspires the bank's suggestion. It is realization of the same fact which makes it possible that labor eventually may adopt the suggestion. At present the idea is visionary, but it is based upon reality.

Thirty-one thousand representatives of Italy's labor forces have formed a cooperative shipping association. They have purchased five ocean freighters which are operated by officers and men of the Italian mercantile marine, each an owner in the fleet and its profits. Their profits, which are large, and a fraction of their wages go to pay for the ships and to buy others. If the association continues to operate profitably it will be extended. The laborers in this case are also capitalists and will reap a double reward from their labor and from their capital.

It is this way to true economic independence which the National City Bank of New York points out to the railroad employees. Their annual wage income under the new scale will be $3,600,000,000. If the employees should set aside 5 per cent of that they could finance their purchase of the railroads at a rate of $180,000,000 a year. Half of that amount would buy a controlling interest in the great New York Central system, at the present price of its stock.

It is evident that actual ownership of the railroads by the unions and brotherhoods is not beyond the range of possibility. A capital interest in large corporations by employees has proved of mutual advantage in the cases where it has been tried. It has taught labor the value and necessity of capital. Viewed in this light the idea of the National City Bank of New York is not so visionary.

It may mean eventually the peaceful working out of the worst of our industrial, economic, and political difficulties.

Editorial of the Day

WEST AND CENTER HOLD THE BALANCE.

[Houston Chronicle.] Generally speaking, the east is Republican, while the south is solidly Democratic.

This leaves the central and western states holding the balance. Democratic managers, therefore, are wise in beginning the campaign in these states, and they will be wiser if they keep it up.

Gov. Cox can be elected without New York, just as Mr. Wilson was, and the chances are that he will be. Those liberal policies which held the west and some central states to the Democratic party four years ago still hold good.

The same narrow minded commercial attitude which brought the east into the Hughes column must still be reckoned with.

It is not a theory but a fact that Republican politics revolves mainly around Wall street.

It is a fact, not a theory, that Democrats must look to the farmers and other plain folks. For the last half century, and roughly speaking, of course, the lineup has been between big business on the one hand and the masses on the other.

The Democratic party may have blundered, floundered, and reversed itself, but it has always been closer to the real pulsating life of the real people.

Mark Hanna, George B. Cortelyou, Aldrich, Platt, and Quay still typify Republican purposes and methods.

Expediency for the sake of getting there, and at the expense of conviction, is still the dominating thought at Republican headquarters.

Today, as it has since the civil war, the Republican party stands for getting votes and grabbing power, no matter by what means, more distinctly than it stands for anything else.

That is what brought about Senator Harding's nomination at Chicago, that is the keynote of every campaign maneuver, and that is what is uppermost in the mind of every principal Republican leader today.

TYPHOID "SHOTS"—RESULTS

If a man has been vaccinated against typhoid fever, how many typhoid bacilli can he drink without contracting typhoid? How much is he protected against paratyphoid fever and other close kin of typhoid? If he contracts typhoid, will his disease be milder? How long does his protection against typhoid last? These are questions investigated by Dr. Victor C. Vaughan Jr., a brilliant young Michigan physician, who died in France shortly after finishing this study.

Although the typhoid rate of the American army in the world war was only one-two hundredths as high as that of the Spanish-American war, and although the army typhoid rates of this war were the lowest by far in the history of the world, our forces had some typhoid. There was almost none until after our forces took over heavy fighting fronts.

Dr. Vaughan, by reason of his assignment to the army, had opportunity to study 270 cases of typhoid. His answer to the first question is that a man who has been properly vaccinated against typhoid can drink diluted sewage with safety. Some of the men in the front line trenches drank water from shell holes and badly polluted small streams. Some of those who did that got typhoid. But the men who were vaccinated against typhoid, he should not drink very filthy water without chlorinating it.

Paratyphoid is closely related to typhoid. Dr. Vaughan saw forty-four cases of paratyphoid. He holds that vaccination against typhoid alone does not protect against paratyphoid. Vaccination against both typhoid and paratyphoid does protect against the latter, subject to the same limitations as those of typhoid vaccination.

Typhoid in a vaccinated man runs about the same course as typhoid in an unvaccinated man. In this Dr. Vaughan does not agree with Dr. Gay of California. Nevertheless, Dr. Vaughan found that these having typhoid within eight months of having been vaccinated did have a milder disease. After eight months the story was different.

Dr. Vaughan did not investigate as to how long the protection given by vaccination against typhoid and paratyphoid teaching is that protection lasts three years. There has been a marked tendency of opinion in recent years that protection that lasts more than last three years.

Perhaps one reason for the increase in typhoid in the fall and winter of 1918 and the spring of 1919 was that the protection given by vaccination against typhoid and paratyphoid was not far enough.

Another observation made by Dr. Vaughan was that a man protected by vaccination, but who had drunk a lot of filthy water, might get typhoid bacilli into his system. In some cases they caused subacute diarrhea, which so weakened the subject that he was unable to resist the typhoid bacilli which he then contracted.

TYPHOID "SHOTS"—RESULTS

If a man has been vaccinated against typhoid fever, how many typhoid bacilli can he drink without contracting typhoid? How much is he protected against paratyphoid fever and other close kin of typhoid? If he contracts typhoid, will his disease be milder? How long does his protection against typhoid last? These are questions investigated by Dr. Victor C. Vaughan Jr., a brilliant young Michigan physician, who died in France shortly after finishing this study.

Although the typhoid rate of the American army in the world war was only one-two hundredths as high as that of the Spanish-American war, and although the army typhoid rates of this war were the lowest by far in the history of the world, our forces had some typhoid. There was almost none until after our forces took over heavy fighting fronts.

Dr. Vaughan, by reason of his assignment to the army, had opportunity to study 270 cases of typhoid. His answer to the first question is that a man who has been properly vaccinated against typhoid can drink diluted sewage with safety. Some of the men in the front line trenches drank water from shell holes and badly polluted small streams. Some of those who did that got typhoid. But the men who were vaccinated against typhoid, he should not drink very filthy water without chlorinating it.

Paratyphoid is closely related to typhoid. Dr. Vaughan saw forty-four cases of paratyphoid. He holds that vaccination against typhoid alone does not protect against paratyphoid. Vaccination against both typhoid and paratyphoid does protect against the latter, subject to the same limitations as those of typhoid vaccination.

FOUR REQUISITES OF SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGNING: Health and strength. I've had them. You've got to be able to believe that you're going to win. You've got to be able to believe that you're going to win. You've got to be able to believe that you're going to win. You've got to be able to believe that you're going to win.

BY EYE WITNESS.

XV.

By The Chicago Tribune.

When I asked one of the editors of the opposition paper in Dayton (the one who was so anxious to foment a neighborhood war, I won't say which editor) what he thought of James M. Cox, he answered: "A politician first and last and as such, he believes, thoroughly unscrupulous. But a great campaigner—a great vote-getter in his ability to get on both sides with him. You know him now—Wilson, and Jim Reed, and Walter Walsh of Massachusetts and up with him. His greatest faculty is in winning which way a proposition is put."

Cox sees the drift and doesn't profess to be that, but—and then, in his slow-spoken but not hesitant way he knocked off the four essentials printed atop this column.

"I've had wonderful health and strength," he continued. "Second, I've kept everlastingly at it. And, third, I've profited by the natural momentum of public thought. I have always led a progressive fight. I've caught things at the flood tide."

Views on Speeches Vary.

In response to another question Editor X—had said, "No, he's not a good writer, though there's a certain rough force in what he writes. But I never heard him make a speech in which he didn't murder the king's English."

That statement puzzles me still, for in all the long talk the governor gave me I caught no slip of that kind, but instead the slow movement of well-ordered, substantial sentences.

Quoted today on the Butler county countryside are meaty aphorisms that he uttered on the hustings four, five, six years ago. Once he gave them this, which I heard repeated by a plain man in an interurban car coming out of Hamilton:

"There will never be revolution in

She and Cupid Laugh at U. S.

MISS FAY BANTER.

In Montgomery county. Ohio never produced a greater campaigner!"

"Everlastingly at it."

Extracting with some delicacy such sentences of that estimate as I could repeat to Gov. Cox without insolence, I added this request:

"Since even the opposition agrees that you are a great campaigner won't you tell me what makes a great campaigner?"

"In the first place," he replied, "I don't profess to be that, but—and then, in his slow-spoken but not hesitant way he knocked off the four essentials printed atop this column.

"I've had wonderful health and strength," he continued. "Second, I've kept everlastingly at it. And, third, I've profited by the natural momentum of public thought. I have always led a progressive fight. I've caught things at the flood tide."

The people treasure such sayings because they are headed by them.

He Teaches His Teachers.

The strange thing is that this man who is now acclaimed as a masterly campaigner began indifferently—very haltingly indeed. Twelve years ago, when he made his first campaign for congress, he was fairly tutored along for the first three weeks by older states at that game, but, as it should be in all well regulated campaign biographies, he soon was able to teach his teachers.

It was William F. Mason, present chairman of the Butler county Democratic committee, who got him to come out for the nomination, and it was that grand old scout, Michael O. Burns, who was his tutor until he got so he could do his own tooting, which was not long. The convention was held at Middletown that year, and when the nomination came Mason stood behind the scenes and held the notes of his speech for the nominee, like a prompter for an unready actor. Mason, and Cox, and all the rest were "terribly nervous," as they told me. "All the first week of the campaign speaking Cox depended on the notes which Mason held. The second week he was good for ten minutes without notes, and the third week for twenty minutes."

Funny Stories by Phone.

Then the bunch hit on this: There was somebody up at Dayton who was friendly to him and was a great story teller—he had a genius for it. Burns said—and every night he would telephone out to Hamilton or Middletown, or wherever in the three counties of the district the campaigner were, some story that he thought Cox could work into a speech. One of Cox's colleagues, who had taken the story at the telephone, would repeat it to him and he would say: "O, that's no good!" or would adopt it if it caught his fancy. Then Michael Burns would sort of rehearse him in it.

Michael Burns, J'ner.

About this Michael Burns I must put in a few words, first because he is so savory a bit of human nature and second because he illustrates the school of politics in which the governor grew up.

"I had a grand talk with Michael Burns about you," said I to the governor when on the terrace at Trillsend he was asking me about my day in Hamilton. "He seemed to me a remarkable man and I wondered he was not a bigger figure in the world."

"A very remarkable man," said the governor musingly, "and probably would have been a bigger figure if it weren't that he's a 'j'ner—a constitutional j'ner. He's a fine lawyer, a splendid prosecutor, but M. O. Burns would rather be grand exalted ruler of the Elks than the president of the United States."

"He may be right at that," said Rodney Bean, who was sitting by—and he said it rather dryly.

The governor looked a shade flabbergasted at that bit of impudence and made a mock-angry pass at Rodney Bean with his cane. Later, as you shall see, he got his revenge in a way that took all the tuck out of Rodney.

WOMEN'S PRESS TO BE SOLD TO PAY CREDITORS

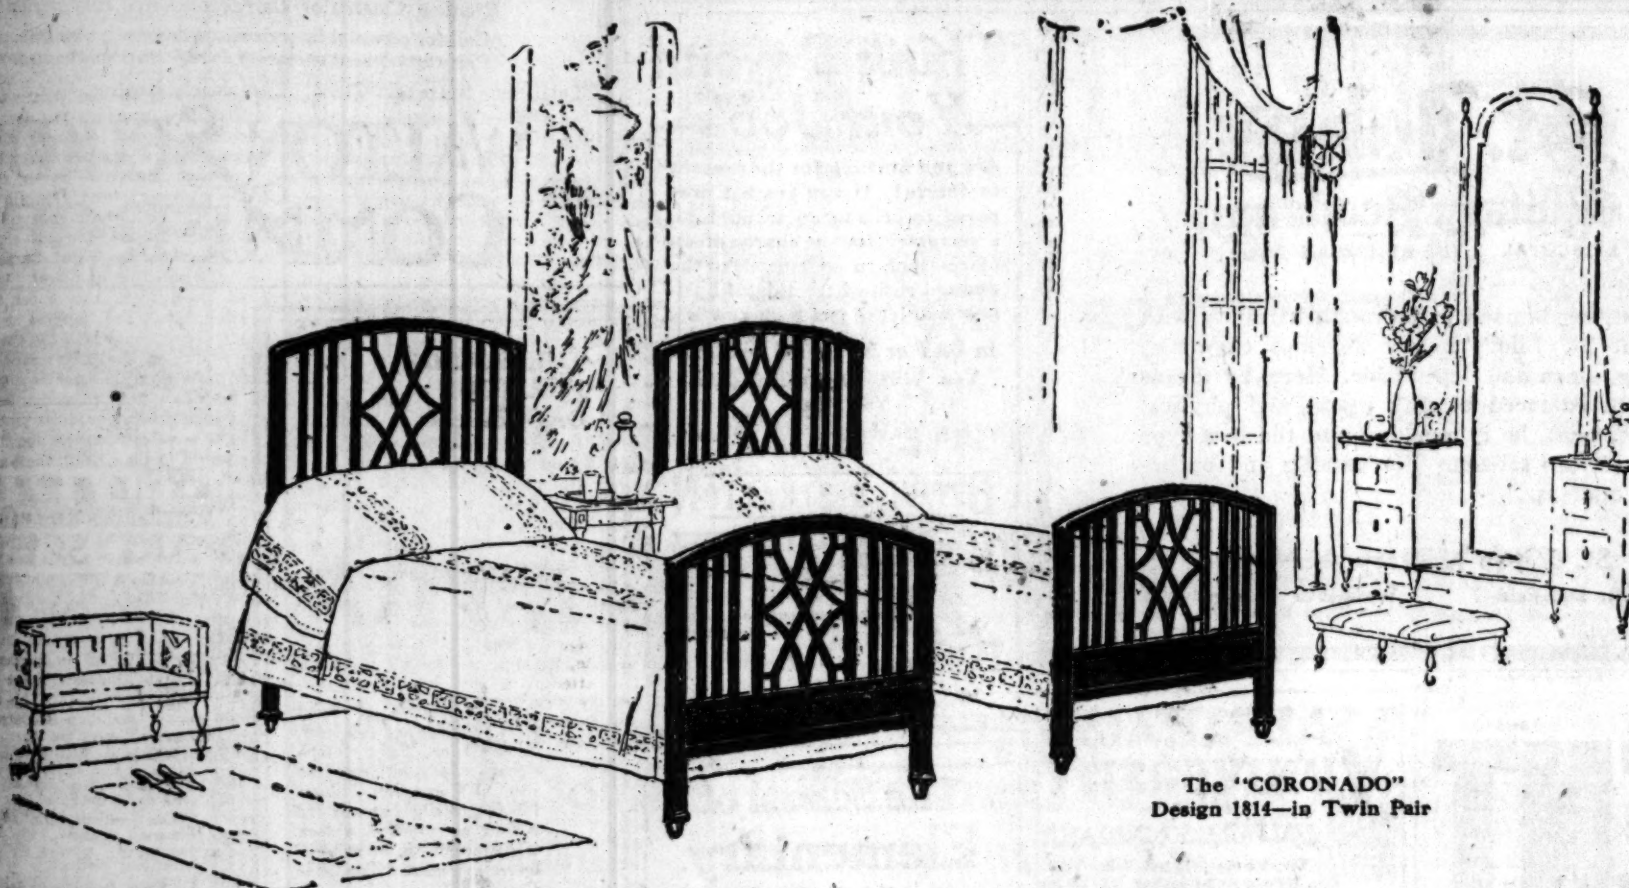

The properties owned by the Women's Press and the Press Publishing company, defunct corporations belonging principally to Mr. and Mrs. Ford Fisher, will be sold next week by Jacob Goldman, receiver. The money accruing will be used to pay creditors of the publishing firms.

Decision to this effect was reached yesterday at a hearing before Master in Chancery William A. Doyle. Mr. and Mrs. Fisher had previously stated they would be able to pay all creditors by Wednesday. They found this impossible, and acquiesced in the plan for the property sale.

A number of new creditors were announced at the hearing, which was continued until next Tuesday.

Winnetka 'Death Crossing' To Be Abandoned by Road

The Chicago and Northwestern railroad notified the village of Winnetka yesterday that it would abandon the Ridge avenue "death" crossing and use a new connecting link west of the present track from Ridge avenue to Oak street. The road will bear the cost of grading and paving the new link.

YOUR WINTER'S COAL

Have you taken thought of your winter's coal?

It is still under ground awaiting the activities of the men about the mines to bring it to the surface, load it on the cars and start it toward your bin.

The activities of the men at the mines, here and elsewhere, have been suspended by order of the United Mine Workers.

We profess to be nothing more than spectators of what is going on in the coal fields of Illinois and Kansas, but the proceedings there have such bearing upon our condition in the Williamson field, that we are constrained briefly to bring them to notice.

The strikers there are under solemn contract, guaranteed by the officers of the United Mine Workers, to perform certain service at a stated rate of wages for a given term of years. In spite of this contract, to which miners, operators and the government of the United States were parties, the miners, under sanction and protection of the United Mine Workers, laid down their tools and quit their work.

So flagrant was the violation of contract in Illinois that the President of the United States, when asked to provide a way of settlement, rebuked the United Mine Workers' organization for its repeated violations of contract. He said:

"It is with a feeling of profound regret and sorrow that I learned that many of the members of your organization, particularly in the state of Illinois, have engaged in a strike in violation of the award of the bituminous coal commission, and your agreement with the government that the findings of the commission would be accepted by you as final and binding. I am distressed not only because your action in refusing to mine coal upon the terms which you had accepted may result in great suffering in many households during the coming winter and interfere with the continuation of industrial and agricultural activity, which is the basis of the prosperity which you in common with the balance of our people have been enjoying, but also, and what is of far more importance, because the violation of the terms of your solemn obligation impairs your good name, destroys the confidence which is the basis of all mutual agreements and threatens the very foundation of fair industrial relations. No government, no employer, no person having any reputation to protect can afford to enter into contractual relations with any organization which systematically or repeatedly violates its contracts."

In Kansas, the contention has not been for higher wages, as in Illinois, but for the acceptance of a five day week and a six hour day.

The contract in Kansas provides that: "pending a final settlement of any dispute the mine shall continue in operation and all miners, mine laborers and parties involved shall remain at work, except discharged employees."

The interest of the Williamson field operators in these strikes, as well as the 705 other strikes called and maintained by the miners in Kansas during forty-five months, is the evidence that the United Mine Workers do not keep their contracts. This fact has been observed by us, just the same as by the President of the United States, who made it the subject of a stinging rebuke.

The cessation of work in the Williamson coal field is due to a contest over the organization of this field by the United Mine Workers.

The Williamson field operators find themselves influenced by many valid objections to the control of the miners of this field by the United Mine Workers. We might, safely and easily, rest our case with the public upon the charge lodged by the President of the United States and justified by a multitude of circumstances that they do not value and enforce the contracts that they make. No business concern will, voluntarily, or under pressure that it can avoid, accept contracts not safeguarded by reliability and good faith.

Permit us, now, to draw this subject to

Kind of Gets Under Your Skin, It Seems

"PASSES BY"
Directed by J. Stuart Blackton.
Presented at the State-Lake.
THE CAST:
Peter Waverton.....Herbert Rawlinson
Margaret Somers.....Lella Valente
Beatrice Dainton.....Eileen Cassidy
Lady Butler.....Pauline Collins
Pine.....William J. Ferguson
Nightingale.....Tom Lewis
Burns.....Dick Lee
Little Peter.....Charles Blackton

By Mae Timine.
This is a tender and charming little picture, peopled with real humans and abounding in quaint humor and philosophy.
Again a producer has displayed sound common sense in starring Herbert Rawlinson. When ever given anything worth while to do he acquires himself in marvelous fashion. He is so real, so poised, so sure of himself. And, withal, a good looking. Not one of the pretty boys by any means, but the kind of chap you'd pick as being a regular guy.
(After that, how abashed we shall be if anybody writes and says he beats his wife and marries his hair!)
Because I enjoyed the picture so much I don't believe I'll tell you just what it's all about. It's not strong on plot—the appeal is more in the characterizations, all of which are splendid. Tom Lewis as the old cabman and William J. Ferguson as a valet "raised in service" are especially fine. The women in the cast are attractive and interesting.
The director and photographer have worked together with a unity that has produced some splendid scenes.
There's nothing about "Passes By" to excite you unduly, but there is a great deal to make you think, to delight you, and to hold your absorbed attention.

SCREEN NOTE

Of interest to screen and stage devotees alike is the announcement that George Arliss himself is to appear in a screen version of "The Devil". The Andrew J. Callaghan Productions will sponsor the picture, filming of which will commence Sept. 4 in a New York studio.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The story told never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Please write on one side of the paper. Address: Bright Sayings, to Amy Bee, Tribune, Chicago.

One day Muriel came into my store with a nickel and wished to spend it. She asked for an ice cream cone.

I told her she had not enough money and said she must have a penny for war tax.
She replied: "Ain't the war all fought?" R. T.

Mother was without a maid, so she found it necessary to leave Edward, in her mother's care quite often.
One day a neighbor of grandmother asked Edward if he was living with his grandmother now.

"O. no," said the little fellow, "mother just parked me with grandma while she went to a card party." C. S. C.

Pastors Urged to Help End Industrial Unrest

The Church Federation of Chicago yesterday sent out a circular letter to pastors reminding them that Sept. 5 is labor Sunday and urging them to speak frankly and earnestly to their congregations in an effort to prevent industrial conflicts.

GOLD PLATED FRUIT

The fruit on the banquet tables of Alexander the Great was heavily plated with gold.
When it was served, the plating was torn off and flung to the servants.
Evidently Alexander considered the delicious fruit of the tree more precious than gold—
An opinion shared by many who have feasted on the luscious, ripe fruit served at CHILDS.

Sliced peaches, plums, or wild fruit, served on buttered toast, topped with CHILDS famous ice cream.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

BY CORINNE LOWE.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—It really doesn't matter what you do if your heart is only true. If your heart be true to plait, apparently there is no lack of fidelity to this ornamentation, for August shows us quite as plait true as April. A delightful morning costume for August and September resort days is built about the plaited skirt of citron colored wool jersey shown above. The bodice is formed of white wool jersey embroidered in marine blue and set off with a collar of satin in the latter tone.

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

Helpless Man Is Rare.

Dear Miss Blake: I read your column daily, but see nothing whatsoever with reference to the one question which so many girls are considering at the present time—namely: Where can you meet young men who consider themselves gentlemen and how are you to keep their attention?

It seems the fellows nowadays care more for painted up dolls than girls who are naturally pretty. I am 18 and rather attractive, but still have no men friends, while girls who are done up have dozens of them.
Also, is it proper to kiss a fellow good night, or do you lose their respect in so doing? I find some fellows consider a girl not a good sport if she doesn't, and others think she is common if she does.
A. L. G.
I simply do not agree with you on your idea of men's choice of girl friends. There may be a few examples of the painted ladies vamping the helpless young male, but they are rare, as is the helpless man species.

No. There is another reason. Maybe you are bashful, maybe self-centered, maybe you do not get yourself up as prettily as you might? Suppose you look beneath the surface and see if it is not something other than a difference in real and genuine complexion. In the meantime—no good night kisses.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

I want to be the medium through which the friend in need may be brought together. All may be you have some discarded article which has not otherwise its usefulness. You will make some fine, fortunate happy, and you would gladly give it if you knew how to get it to the person who needs it. Write to me and I shall be only too happy to be of service to you. Please write on one side of the paper. When information is sent by mail a stamped addressed envelope should accompany the request. Please do not send parcels to the Tribune, but write for the address of the applicant and send direct.

For Art Student.
"I am in need, and I do so hope that you can befriend me. I am an art student (poor, of course), trying to fix my clothes and go back to school and work. It's rather disheartening, entirely so, in fact, to try to make my old clothes look like new when they have more than served their time. And so I come to you. I need some sort of a new piece to freshen up my old suit. Aren't there some of your readers with old fashioned fur pieces in their trunks that I could request to use? I also need a dress. As I am about 5 feet 10 inches tall and weigh about 150 pounds, I will have to have a good sized one. Clothes of any kind

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

HOUSEWIFE: A BRAIN UNEXERCISED by reading and thinking and deciding for itself will atrophy just as surely as unexercised muscles will. A slow witted, dull minded person has herself to blame. You can remember names if you try. You can relate incidents if you exercise your mind sufficiently. It is pure laziness of mind that makes a woman say in conversation: "I forgot just what the name was or the place where it happened."

To remember names, when you first hear one, associate something with the person or the name itself. Say it over to yourself a couple of times. Then, suppose you resolve you will learn four lines by heart every day—poetry or prose whichever you choose. In three months I will wager your husband will not call you stupid again.

that I could make over would be more than welcome. I should be glad to send little sketches and cards in return.

This letter speaks for itself. I shall be happy to send the address to any one who can help this art student obtain the things she needs.

COKE FIRM BUYS SOUTH CHICAGO BUILDING SITES

Plans for the erection of several buildings in South Chicago are being made by the By-Products Coke company. Operations are to be started next year, providing construction costs resume a normal figure.

Officials of the company admitted yesterday that when conditions are better they will proceed with the construction on land just purchased from Martha J. Ruprecht, who took title from Ralph W. Condon. The tract extends from One Hundred and Tenth to One Hundred and Eleventh street on Baltimore avenue, and has a width of 135 feet to the Calumet river.

William M. Eaton has bought the St. Paul apartments at 563-64 Oakwood boulevard from Herbert D. and Anna L. Jones for an indicated $77,500. The building is seven stories high and has a brick and stone exterior.

The six apartment building at 1504-08 Jonquil terrace has been sold to Arthur and Minnie Bopp by Arthur V. Z. Jennings, for a reported $40,000, subject to $15,000. The three apartment building at 1614 Wallen avenue was given in trade by the purchasers. William L. Wallen & Sons represented both sides.

The Victory Motor Sales corporation has recorded a lease on the garage at 3201 West North avenue, obtained from the Standard Motor Car company for an indicated rental of $6,000 annually for ten years.

Carl and Abraham Harris have purchased the six apartment building at 3143-45 Franklin boulevard from W. Cary Lewis for a reported $25,000, subject to $15,000. O. P. Marsh of W. K. Young & Bro. was the broker.

Building Permits

Six building permits were issued yesterday in excess of $10,000:

16541-43 Buffalo-st. 1 story brick; Riverside Iron Works, owner; Henry H. Haskin, arch.; Bunker & Bior, contractors.	13,000
1300 E. 93rd-st. 1 story brick; Burnside Steel Co., owner; R. Wendland, arch.; F. W. Bossi, mason.	18,000

THE IRON AGE

The Iron Age weekly review of the steel and iron industry says:

"To an increasing extent the steel trade is taking account of factors that bear on the future course of demand and of prices. While some producers talk of passing on the cost increment due to the 40 per cent increase in freight rates, others dwell on the final effect of the changes going on in other industries. With an unrelenting accumulation of unfilled orders still existing in most finished material lines, such cancellations as have come on automobile and shipyard orders have not been a market factor. But there is the keenest interest in any development bearing on the steel corporation's price policy for 1921, and railroad buyers apparently is waiting for a cue."

"The Chicago market, which particularly reflects the railroad situation, has been notably quiet. Here and there foundries in that district are curtailing operations, and some will soon be in need of new orders. Railroad demand there has not yet developed in sufficient volume to offset the curtailment of automobile, tractor and allied work, gauged by cancellations and suspended shipments."

CONCERNS

The troubled state of the automobile industry, concerning which there have been many contradictory reports of a rebound yesterday in the market, although these are not of major importance, is being taken up by the receivers of the automobile companies in Pennsylvania, was placed yesterday in the hands of the receivers. Both the creditors and the shareholders of the corporation are solvent, but the corporation is insolvent, and the receivers are taking up the matter of liquidating the company, which has been in operation for some time. EXPANSION TIDE OF CREDIT EBBS, U. S. BANKS SAY. Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.—Evidence of a turning of the tide of expansion was given tonight by the federal reserve board in a statement which indicated that the expansion of bank credit apparently has been checked. The board added, however, that application of the policy of restricting loans to essential requirements had not reduced the volume of loans and discounts of the country's banking institutions.

U. S. TREASURY STATEMENT. The following statement of the United States Treasury for the month of August, 1920, was issued today: Total revenue, $1,386,628,730; total disbursements, $1,386,628,730; balance on hand, $1,386,628,730.

WE CAN BUILD IT! WORTH CONSIDERING! Today labor is plentiful, but materials difficult to obtain. The railroad situation is acute; the material market unable to produce.

R-C for Concrete Industrial Construction. An important qualification in a building operation necessarily must be good workmanship, but under these unusual conditions the timely considerations are: Do they know how? Can they do the work at all? We can build it!
